

ORANGE City News

Wednesday, March 21, 2018

AN EDITION OF THE REGISTER

oregister.com/orange

IN OUR SCHOOLS

Orange High cadets get special honor for their successes

U.S. Rep. Lou Correa, 46th District, recently visited Orange High School to honor members of its Marine Corps JROTC championship drill team and color guard.

Andrea Mills
Contributing Columnist

Correa, who serves on House committees for Homeland Security and Veterans Affairs, presented each member with a certificate of congressional recognition for the unit's outstanding performance and community service.

The corpsmen, under Maj. Ian Santos and Sgt. Maj. Ed Aguilar, recently won three regional drill competitions and have pre-

SCHOOLS » PAGE 3

COURTESY OF IMAN DIAZ

U.S. Rep. Lou Correa congratulates Sgt. Maj. Ed Aguilar and the Orange High School JROTC cadets for their exemplary winnings and community service.

Schools

FROM PAGE 1

sented the colors at an Anaheim Ducks game and provided an honor guard at the Nixon Presidential Library & Museum for a wreath-laying ceremony.

Superintendent Gunn Marie Hansen, school board members Kathy Moffat and Andrea Yamasaki and numerous Navy and Marine Corps veterans attended the ceremony and reception honoring the cadets.